

Student Loan Forgiveness Scams:

6 Steps to Stay Safe

“Fraudsters will do everything they can to take advantage of these kind of opportunities. Be cautious, make sure to follow the instructions carefully, and protect your personal information.”

–Jeff Taylor, head of Commercial Fraud Forensics at Regions Bank

The US government will not charge processing fees, in any type of currency – traditional or cryptocurrencies.

Do not open links from suspicious email addresses. Always verify websites provided via email or text are official US government websites.

Confirm any information regarding loan repayment with the financial institution or company providing the loan.

Exercise caution when entering any personally identifiable or financial information on websites.

Exercise caution when downloading images or files from unknown or unsolicited emails.

Ensure there are no spelling or grammatical errors on the website or in the email.

The information presented is general in nature and should not be considered, legal, accounting or tax advice. Regions reminds its customers that they should be vigilant about fraud and security and that they are responsible for taking action to protect their computer systems. Fraud prevention requires a continuous review of your policies and practices, as the threat evolves daily. There is no guarantee that all fraudulent transactions will be prevented or that related financial losses will not occur. Visit regions.com/STOPFRAUD or speak with your Banker for further information on how you can help prevent fraud.